

MARTIN P. LESHNER
(November 8, 2023)

LESHNER--Dr. Martin. Dr. Martin Leshner of New York City, NY, died suddenly on November 8, 2023. December 3rd would have been his 85th birthday. Engaging, bright, knowledgeable, and precise, he loved life and loved people. Born and raised in Philadelphia, he attended Central High School, Class 206. Dr. Leshner received Bachelors and PhD degrees from Temple University where he was an Associate Professor of Rehabilitation Medicine until he received tenure. Marty had a distinguished career as a Human Resource Management Consultant, he was both a Partner and Practice Leader during his decades at the Hay Group. After retiring from Hay, he consulted independently until his marriage in 2014. He and his wife determined to enjoy to the fullest what would be their too short lives together. As a lover and patron of the arts, Marty enjoyed food and wine, afternoon bourbon with nuts, travel, his Porsche with the license plate MKITSO, style, humor, and promptness. He cared greatly for his dear mother, who lived until she was 97. He is survived by his beloved wife Rosanne.

Published by New York Times on Dec. 3, 2023.